FOUR UNIQUE SITES ALL UNDER ONE ROOF

The New Street warehouse is an exceptional building with a fascinating history, which will continue to dazzle the city as it has done for the last 330 years.

This historical 18th century warehouse comprises of Old Bengal Bar, New Street Grill, Fish Market, and New Street Wine, all available for corporate or personal hire for breakfasts, lunches, dinners, wine tastings and more.

In 1768 The East India Company bought land on New Street and the first warehouse was built to store raw silk and piece goods, hence the warehouse was named New Street Warehouse. Ostrich feathers, china ware, Oriental carpets, cigars, tortoise-shell, silks, mother-of-pearl, clocks, watches, cameras, drugs, spices, musical instruments, perfumes and tea were stored here.

With mouth – watering steaks and the finest fresh fish, to stunning Bordeaux and Burgundy wines, not to mention the extensive choice of cocktails, we will make sure you have an event to remember.
